

Donna B. Fedus, M.A.

Donna Fedus is a gerontologist educator, adjunct professor, and principle of Borrow My Glasses. Borrow My Glasses, LLC (BMG) is an education company dedicated to aging & caregiving from a new perspective co-founded by gerontologist Donna Fedus & producer Lauren Lewis. They work with organizations and universities who want engaging and effective ways to educate audiences on issues of aging, and with professionals, caregivers and students who want to better understand aging issues to navigate their life and career.

Borrow My Glasses clients benefit from the unique combination of Donna's deep subject matter expertise with Lauren's ability to shape the look, feel and flow of content so it engages and resonates with audiences. Borrow My Glasses develops learning and evaluation strategies, designs & delivers educational programs, creates content and produces multimedia workshops & events delivered in workplaces, communities, and classrooms nationwide.
